One of the odd tech support routines that you'll find even at big companies is the ability for your IT department to log calls and track those who continually call them back—regardless of the results of their actions. In fact, you may find it difficult not to hang up when someone, usually a manager, tells you he's being called back by the same person multiple times, even after he has told the customer, "We've already fixed it."You're currently on: Product Compare Product Compare Product Compare Look for the product you wish to buy and then click the Compare button. (1) In Japan, the vaccination rate of adults receiving influenza vaccination at outpatient clinics has historically been low. Moreover, uptake of influenza vaccination among adults aged 65 years or older has also been poor. (2) The Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) recommended to all adults, including those at high risk, 65 years of age or older, to be vaccinated against influenza. (3) Three previous studies demonstrated that providing adults with information prior to influenza vaccination was
